

JURY FAVORS THE DEFENDANT FIRMS IN WAIBLING CASE

Assessor, AAA Official, Insurance Co. Treasurer Testify

IN COURT FIVE DAYS

Assessor States the Market Value Remains Same For Tract

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 28.—A Bucks county jury of men and women yesterday returned a verdict in favor of the defendant in the damage suit brought by Waibling, Inc., of Erwinna, a non-profit corporation, against the Metropolitan Edison Company, of Easton; the New Jersey and Bucks United Telephone Companies, of Frenchtown, N. J., and the Pinnacle Tree Service, of Lambertville, N. J.

The plaintiff was suing for $5,000 damages, although the statement of claim originally asked for $20,000 damages.

For five days the case has been under way in Judge Hiram H. Keller's court.

During the five-day civil court trial, evidence was produced in an effort to show that the cutting of trees, evergreens and shrubs on the 1200 feet right of way of the plaintiff, in March, 1947, did damage to the extent of $5102.35.

The jury, accompanied by the court officials, the plaintiffs and defendants, visited the site on the 25-acre farm of the Stover family along the Delaware River road at Erwinna.

Waibling, Inc., is the name of one of the oldest Colonial landholdings in upper Bucks county.

A Tinticum Twp. assessor who has held that post 34 years, a Nockanton township AAA official; and a Plumstead township insurance company treasurer, had testified in court here that in their opinion the clearing of the 1200 feet right of way of the plaintiff, "Waibling," Erwinna Delaware river road farm, did not make the 25 acre farm lose value.

Quintus Lerch, 65, Tinticum Twp. assessor, placed the market value of the farm at $12,000 to $14,000. "After the trimming of the trees and shrubbery on the right of way the value was still the same amount," said Lerch, who has been familiar with the property for more than 30 years.

Harry Ott, 72, who lives near Point Pleasant and is a treasurer for an insurance company, placed the market value at $10,000 for a farm and $12,000 for a "residential estate purpose."

Webster Shive, 56, Ferndale, former AAA official, who has been familiar with "Waibling," the ancestral Stover family home along the Delaware river since 1915, placed

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The Republican National Committee yesterday retained Representative Scott as the party's national chairman, but by only four votes.

Senator Taft introduced fifteen bills designed to retain salient features of the Taft-Hartley Law. The Administration asked that the minimum wage be raised to 75 cents an hour and that existing laws be expanded to cover millions of new workers. Identical bills were introduced in both houses to implement President Truman's housing program.

Retail prices dropped for the third straight month, Washington announced. The fall was led by foods, which declined for the fifth consecutive month. The return of the five-cent cigar and a wide variety of sales were evidences of lower prices.

Army Secretary Royall told a House committee that war, while not "imminent" was "at least a possibility." He asked for a peacetime army of 837,000 officers and men, 160,000 more than the President had asked.

Espionage is the primary purpose of the Communist party in this country, the House Committee on Un-American Activities reported to Congress. It suggested new legislation to meet the situation. Sam

SAYS THE AVERAGE AMERICAN LIKES WORK

Social Security Board Representative Says Most Averse To Loafing

IS ROTARY SPEAKER

L. I. Krentzlin, manager of the Philadelphia office of the Social Security Board, speaking to Rotarians in St. James Episcopal parish house yesterday afternoon, declared that the average American does not want to loaf but wants a job and wants to work.

The speaker, who outlined suggested changes in the Social Security Act which will be made to the present congress by the board, declared that "the average American is a darn swell guy and much more honest and sincere than any politician. He wants to work. This is evidenced by the fact that less than one-third of the persons who could draw old age benefits today are doing so."

Among the proposed changes in the Act which will be recommended to Congress are the following: increased benefits; broader coverage; modification of the work clause; reduction of women's retirement age to 60 years; increase in the minimum benefits; increase taxable wages from the present $3000 maximum to a $4800 maximum; some provisions for self-employed persons so that they will be afforded some coverage.

"We should check the program of social security and find out

LEGISLATION TO BOOST SALARIES OF TEACHERS, PROVIDE SCHOOL SUBSIDY INCREASES BEING WHIPPED INTO SHAPE

By Jack Ward
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 28.—Legislation to boost teachers' salaries and to provide whopping increases in state school subsidies was being whipped into final shape today by state education groups.

Measures to increase pay and subsidies will be presented to legislators shortly after Governor James H. Duff delivers his 1949-51 budget to the Assembly next week.

The Pennsylvania State Education Association, leading exponent for increased teacher and education benefits, is in the process of drafting bills to boost teachers' salaries to a $2400 annual minimum. The organization, upon recommendation of its house of delegates, also will seek minimum salaries of $1400 annually for teachers with college certificates and $1800 for those with masters degrees.

In addition, teachers groups will ask lawmakers to hike the minimum subsidy per teaching unit to $1800 and the maximum from $2300 to $4500.

Legislation already in statute books automatically provides a $100 boost in the minimum subsidy for the 1949-51 school year.

In total, state education subsidies will be increased automatically $33,338,000 during the biennium opening June 1. The figure includes $7,694,000 for teachers' retirement and $3,644,000 for transportation of school children.

Duff may discuss his stand on teachers' salary legislation in his budget message.

In the past the Governor has indicated that he favors less State support of education and more financial responsibility on the part of local government.

TELLS OF RATIONING

Black Market Active; The Weekly Meat Ration Could Be Eaten at One Meal

NEWTOWN, Jan. 28.—Concluding a four months visit in England, Mrs. Harry Backhouse notes the great contrast between conditions here and in the British Isles, especially as regards supplies of food and clothing.

Mrs. Backhouse arrived at her Ritter avenue home on Monday, she making the return voyage on the "Queen Mary" which made the five day trip from Southampton. Mrs. Backhouse's father, William Brooks had visited her for a period, and upon his return to his home in England, Mrs. Backhouse accompanied him. She visited relatives and friends there, making stops in Lancashire, Staffordshire, London and other cities. This was the second return trip of Mrs. Backhouse to her native England. She has been in this country for 24 years, residing here for most of that time.

"Conditions in England are still pretty bad," she commented today. "There is so much black market activity, but if residents stuck entirely to rationing I don't see how they could live." She added that ration of bacon remains at one oz. per week; and that the weekly ration of meat, between nine and 12 pennyworth, can readily be eaten at one meal. Rations each for lard, margarine, butter and cheese, are pieces approximately 1 x 2 inches per person. "The quantity of tea is not too small," adds the localite, who points out that with other "instant" beverages the English have plenty of beverage with their meals.

"There is no white bread in England, and many think it will not come back," comments Mrs. Backhouse. Bread supply, however, is not limited. Ration of sweets is one pound per person per month.

As regards clothing, the Ritter avenue woman states that such is still strictly rationed, but that the situation is improving. "Clothing can be bought, but at a very high price, much more than the average person can afford."

Speaking of American-made automobiles, which according to recent press releases here are numerous in England, Mrs. Backhouse said that number of low and average priced cars in the cities is high for that area, many being seen in the cities.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Klerman
(Distributed by International News Service)

It will go hard with Axis Sally... that testimony to a jury of radio-owners about playing Crosby records one after another will get her life.

Bing will be moving to another station soon... that's news to people who didn't know there was a station left he wasn't heard on continuously.

Anyway, three Nazi radio executives are here testifying against Axis Sally. Nuernburg had a low opinion of Nazi officials but it turns out they are expert, reliable and lovable when working for the prosecution.

It is now apparent that Walter Gieseking erred in coming here as a pianist... he should have come as an admitted Nazi propagandist and picked up a witness fee and a cordial welcome.

The Commie trial in New York is beginning to move now... they've about finished attacking the jury system and are expected to allow the prosecution to proceed.

FOUR-WHEEL VIDEO!

Some call it television, some call it video, and some call it worse names than that. Barroom customers in the big cities seem to like it fine, but one taproom in New York City has been doing a thriving business since putting a sign outside reading: "Positively No Television," and cynics have been heard to sneer that driving the customer to drink is unfair competition.

Sports managers are uneasy.
Television owners can see more of a fight or a football game at home than they could from choice
seats in a stadium, and worry less about the weather, too. If prices of sets are reduced and they are installed in most homes, many professional sports may be forced out of business. Or so say the pessimists.

One man is looking even further ahead. Senator Desmond of Newburgh has drafted a bill for the New York legislature banning television sets in automobiles.
What chance will a pedestrian or a careful driver have, he asks, if Betty Grable's legs are flashed on the other car's screen?

He has something there. Auto radios have their attractions,
especially for youthful parkers,
but they drain the battery and distract the driver. Dashboard video would be worse. If television manufacturers have any regard for the public safety, they'll keep their sets out of cars or invent a gadget to keep them from being turned on when the motor is running.

Book publishers are worrying about video, too. They cite the case of the book-of-the-month subscriber who didn't renew his subscription after buying a television set. They fear that the home scene of Daddy reading to the kiddies while Mummy
washes the dishes (or vice versa)
will vanish from American life.
The vanishing art of conversation, they warn, may also go the way of the passenger pigeon.

Some of these dire forebodings
may prove to be greatly exaggerated. It is to be fervently hoped they all will be. For there are times when, looking toward the brave new world of the future, the average citizen doesn't feel brave
at all.

A celestial formation of dust
so large it would take 1,000 years to pass has been discovered. Certainly they cannot blame that one on the Oklahoma Panhandle.

The European Recovery Administration is scraping the bottom of the money barrel. Calling all taxpayers, calling all taxpayers.

Judging by recent displays it seems 1949 weather will come in assorted sizes and colors, with a variety designed to please all customers.

Business and government are to be teamed up in the interest of prosperity. Business is convinced, however, that it will get the short end of the doubletree.

Inside Your Congress

Closed Shop

SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

Laws which protect the right of a man to work without joining a labor union are constitutional. So says the U. S. Supreme Court.

Now that the heat is on in Washington to repeal the Taft-Hartley Law, which also forbids the closed shop (but not the union shop), this opinion creates another hurdle for labor unions to jump. If they drive through Congress their bill to monopolize the labor supply, they must next tackle the state legislatures. Here is a rallying point for all those who believe in the rights of the states to control their own affairs.

We witness the swing of the pendulum. After upholding one federal law after another, dictated by the New Deal to concentrate power over jobs in Washington, the Supreme Court now holds constitutional the right of the 48 states to,
in effect, offset such national legislation, so far as business within their own states is concerned.
As Justice Black says: "Just as we have held that the due process clause erects no obstacle to block legislative protection to union members, we now hold that legislative protection can be afforded non-union members."

The decision involved cases only from Arizona, Nebraska and North Carolina. But the same principle should apply in 12 states that now
ban the closed shop.

The state laws have been applied to inter-state as well as intra-state commerce. This is for the reason that the Taft-Hartley Act provides that when state laws regulate union membership more strictly than that act, the state laws apply. This provision of the Taft-Hartley Act will now, of course, be the especial object of attack by union officers.
Assuming that they get Congress to knock it out, what then?

Where there is a conflict between Congressional and state laws (in a field in which Congress has power to legislate), it is the rule that na-

Keeping Your Figure Slim

Courtesy Dorothy Gray Salon
Massage is an important part of the figure-remodeling program in a famous New York salon.

By HELEN FOLLETT

"If a woman has a little spare time, doesn't mind the expense, has determination to make herself better looking, beauty is at her doorstep. I am referring, of course, to face and figure. Faces seem to be getting along pretty well, but there are plenty of feminine shapes that could be molded into more graceful lines." So proclaims the boss of a figure-remodeling salon.

No matter what fashion dictators
may have to say, hip width isn't desirable. All right if it is a lot of draped dry goods that you can take off and hang in the clothes closet.
But you don't want the kind of panniers that you have to live with and carry around. These adipose bumps can be deleted if a woman will mind her diet, take proper exercise, or place herself in the care of an expert in the art of creating the svelte silhouette.

Back to normal

Getting back to normal weight
and measurements is rejuvenating.
A woman not only gets rid of excess baggage in the form of human suet,

but she feels younger, is more active. Then, there is the even more important matter of health. Overweight should not be endured.

In some reducing salons one reclines in a specially constructed beauty rest compartment which is really a super cabinet bath with life giving rays. A shower follows, then a masseuse gets in her work of pounding fat cells into a state of dissolution.

Salt G

If circulation is sluggish, the candidate for the willowy shape is given a salt glow. This is an invigorating treatment that puts ginger in the heels. Moistened salt is rubbed into the flesh; all the little capillaries respond like lightning.

A scalp treatment and a facial follow, and of course the hair dresser gets in her work. By the time all this is accomplished the patron of the pulchritude arts feels that she has had the whole works, is completely made over. Her pocketbook may look flatter, but so does she,
less busty, less hippy, less tummy.

tional legislation takes precedence
over state legislation.

It would seem, therefore, that Congress can re-establish the closed shop and deny the free right to work in business in interstate commerce. But as to business within a state, the state legislature may continue to forbid the closed shop.
Will this tend to promote a healthy decentralization of business and stop the continued expansion of huge corporate structures and labor unions that blanket the nation?

This emerging conflict between the Congress and the states leads to the vital question: What is interstate commerce? Before 1937, the Supreme Court had held for a century that interstate commerce did not begin until goods began to move across state lines, and ended when the goods came to rest. In short, farming, mining, lumbering, and manufacturing were not commerce,
and were beyond the power of Congress.

That historic definition of commerce was abandoned in 1937, and Congress and the Supreme Court then went to absurd lengths. For example, that an elevator operator who never moves anything across a state line, but does move passengers vertically up and down in an office building, is "in" or "affects" interstate commerce, because some of his passengers are employed by a business that does ship goods across state lines! To such absurd lengths did the Supreme Court go to uphold the New Deal in its fond conceit that it could manage everybody and everything, and not, itself, become the prisoner of the Frankensteins

it spawned.

Former Justice Roberts of the Supreme Court says few things are more important than to re-define the phrase "interstate commerce"
and restore to the states some of their historic rights and powers.
Will the closed shop decision lead
to that good result?

SOCIAL SECURITY

This is one of a series of questions and answers on Social Security prepared by Harry W. Pease, Manager, of the Kensington Field Office. For additional information regarding any other questions you may have, you are invited to contact Mr. Pease at 3207 Kensington Avenue, Telephone REgent 9-4898.

Article 1

Q. Is Old Age and Survivors Insurance primarily an old folks program?

A. No. This insurance would better be termed family insurance because 66% of the monthly beneficiaries are women and children. The remaining 34% are wage earners over 65 and their wives over 65. Preserving and protecting the family is the primary objective of this program. To keep families together in normal home surroundings is the cardinal principle of old age and survivor's insurance.

Q. Does everybody get the same amount in benefits?

A. No. Monthly insurance benefits are based primarily on the wage earner's average monthly wage. He is credited with all wages that he has received for work in covered employment up to $3,000.00 a year. When the worker or his family files a claim for benefits the worker's social security account determines the size of the benefits.

Q. How can I get printed information on old age and survivor's insurance?

A. Write to the Social Security Administration, 3207 Kensington Avenue and ask for Pamphlet 35.

Q. Where can I get information in Bristol?

A. A representative of the Kensington Field Office is at the Bristol Post Office on the second and last Thursday of each month from 9:00 a. m. until 3:00 p. m.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

THE intensive labors of scientists in research laboratories are steadily making important contributions toward building healthier and happier people. Every modern woman applies some of this knowledge in the careful planning of her meals. She has come to realize that the food value is more important than its appeal to the appetite and the eye. Her dishes must be properly balanced to build healthy bodies for her youngsters, stimulate vigor and energy and build up resistance against the elements and disease.

By way of suggesting a Sunday dinner enriched with vitamins and calories, the A&P Service for Home-Makers recommend baked corned beef hash.

Combine 2 cups of diced cold boiled potatoes with 1½ cups of chopped corned beef and 1 small minced onion. Add ½ cup of cream and 1 tablespoon of melted butter. Season with salt, pepper and paprika as desired and mix well. Place mixture in buttered oblong baking dish. Then with the bottom of a custard cup, make 6 indentations in the hash loaf and dot each with bits of butter, using only 1 tablespoon in all. Bake in a very hot oven (450°F.) for 15 minutes. Remove from oven and into each indentation break one egg. Season and cover with 1 teaspoon of cream to each egg and dot with the remaining tablespoon of butter. Once again insert the hash in a moderate oven (350°F.) until the eggs are set, 15 to 20 minutes. Made in these proportions, you will have enough hash to serve 6.

Although the hash will be the attraction of the meal, serve cream of corn soup, spinach with egg alongside the hash, chocolate bread pudding and milk or coffee, and you can be assured of a meal rich in nutrition value so important to the maintenance of good health.

Legislation to Boost Salaries of Teachers Is Being Whipped Into Shape

Teachers pay increases will be designed to boost the average pay of classroom instructors from the present $2458 to slightly above $2747. The legislation also is expected to call for a $200 increment for each five years of service.

Also high on the list of educators' demands will be a proposal to liberalize retirement benefits for teachers. The PSEA desires voluntary retirement at 35 years of service or 62 years of age, whichever is earlier. Basic provisions of the current retirement law would be liberalized by increasing benefits to retired teachers from one-eighth of final salary to one-seventieth.

During the 1947 session of the General Assembly, $239,123,500 was appropriated for education, including $173,000,000 for subsidies—a $45,000,000 increase over the previous biennium.

the value at $14,000 or $15,000. "After the cutting it lost no value," said Shive, who threw a bombshell into the evidence when he said as a farm the value was only $8,000.

The defendants, Metropolitan Edison Company, Easton; New Jersey and Bucks United Telephone Companies, Frenchtown, N. J., and Pinnacle Tree Service, Lambertville, N. J., were charged with cutting down 128 trees and 39 spice bushes without the plaintiff-owners permission and causing damages amounting to more than $5,000.

The plaintiff presented John W. Walter, Point Pleasant nurseryman as a rebuttal witness just before both sides closed.

Mr. Walter expressed his opinion that the fair market value of the Waibling property before the trees and shrubbery were cut down in 1947 was $30,000 and that the present-day value is between $25,000 and $26,000.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By John Harms

HARRISBURG, Jan. 28 — (L.N.S.) — Farm land prices today are the highest on record and sales are few. Dr. Kenneth Wood, extension agricultural economist of Pennsylvania State College said owners are reluctant to sell even at inflated prices, and fewer prospective buyers are willing to pay those prices. Pennsylvania farms are selling at 85 per cent more than during 1935-39. That compares with the national farm price scale of 113 per cent above recovery period farm prices, and a four per cent boost over the previous record of 1929, Wood said. "Many buyers are operating on a shoe-string," Wood said, "although farm land buyers continue to pay cash for about one-half of their purchases."

where it has served its purpose, where it has fallen short of its goals and then correct those conditions", Krentzlin said.

"When the Act was new, people were afraid of it and didn't want it, but today those very same people who thought hardest against it now want it most. Now that the United States has passed from a large agricultural nation to a great industrial empire, the need will become greater."

Speaking of the magnitude of the Act, the speaker pointed out the administration of the act is really big business, adding that the main office of the Social Security Board in Baltimore, Md., has records on 76 million Americans, with an active file on 41 million persons. Benefits are being paid today to two and a half million persons under the Act.

At the conclusion of his remarks, Krentzlin answered numerous questions for members. Guests were present for the meeting from Bristol, Trenton, N. J.; Texas and Minnesota. President Warren Woodruff was in charge.

Lumber Industry Film Shown To Exchangeites

With Chauncey Stoneback, Jr., in charge of the entertainment program, Bristol Exchange Club members viewed an interesting motion picture film last evening, in St. James' parish house. Its showing was made possible through courtesy of a lumber firm.

The picture showed the vast forests of the mountainous northwest, with their countless cedar, spruce and fir trees. Special attention was called to the growth from seedling to the time tall tree is ripe for cutting, and from that time until it reaches the planing mill. It was pointed out that over-ripe trees die of old age and become a hindrance to development of smaller trees in the dense forest.

The club members were reminded that fire is the forest's most deadly enemy and very often is caused by a passing motorist tossing a lighted cigarette carelessly by the roadside. Included in the films were extensive precautions taken by fire wardens to spot even the slightest sign of smoke from their lookout towers, and the manner in which the exact location can be communicated to the rangers who are in charge of fire fighters.

It was also shown how trees are cut and transported to central locations where logs are sorted and prepared for local lumber yards. The sorting and trimming of logs, grading of boards, and loading are done almost entirely by modern machinery, and they are shipped to all corners of the globe. Nothing is wasted at the planing mill. All small pieces of wood, as well as shavings and saw-dust are specially treated and compressed into what is called "presto logs" for firewood. Special machinery designed for making of pulp- and ply-wood was shown in detail.

The projector was in charge of Lester Michael.

Edward J. Fleming presided at the meeting. Guests presented to the group included: John Mulligan, Maurice Updike, Wayne Fahringer and Charles Utz. Enthusiastic singing was led by Dr. George T. Fox.

BROWNIES HAVE TEA

ANDALUSIA, Jan. 28.—Andalusia Brownie Troop No. 1, under leadership of Mrs. Lawrence Robinson, enjoyed a tea party at the home of Mrs. Frank Hodgson, Saturday afternoon. "Judy" Hodgson was the hostess. Gloria Robinson and "Judy" Dean served as "cooks", and the "maids" were Rebecca Vansant and Catherine Rupp. The "guests" were Norma Gaugler, Alma Eggert, Dorothy Candy, Linda Price, Jane Vick-ers, Joan Robinson, Isabel Pressell, Joan Trommer, Irene Brodick and "Betty" McCartney. At the Troop meeting Monday afternoon in Andalusia school basement, the girls started to make surprise Valentine gifts for their mothers. Singing and games were enjoyed.

Install Mrs. L. Cornwell Royal Matron of Amaranths

Installation of officers of Amy F. Schmidt Memorial Court, No. 104, Order of the Amaranth, was held in Travel Club home, Monday evening.

After routine business was conducted by the Royal Matron, Mrs. Lena Broadbridge, the ceremony of uncrowning was performed. The officers taking part in this were: Mrs. Mary Waterman, Philadelphia, past grand royal matron, State of Pennsylvania, and deputy supreme to the State of Montana, uncrowning matron; assisted by Mrs. Ethel O'Dea, as crown bearer; Mrs. Dorothy North, as Marshall in West; Mrs. Elizabeth Slater as flag bearer, all of Bristol and Mrs. Elsie Schoffstall, Oakford, as standard bearer. Mrs. Mary Waterman, past grand royal matron, removed the crown from Mrs. Broadbridge in a beautiful ceremony.

An honor guard formed by officers of her court, each carrying flame colored gladioli and fern, formed an avenue at the foot of the throne, through which the retiring royal matron, Mrs. Broadbridge, was escorted as Mrs. Ida Johnson sang, "In the Garden of Tomorrow". Those who had formed the guard then presented the retiring royal matron with appropriate verse and the flowers they carried were tied into a bouquet with rose colored ribbon.

The installation of officers for the ensuing year followed. Mrs. Elizabeth Slater, royal patron, conducted this ceremony and appointed as her aides: Mrs. Geraldine Drawbaugh, D. G. R. M., as marshal; Mrs. Mary Waterman, P.G.R.M., as marshal's aide; Mrs. Cordelia Mucklow as prelate, and Mrs. Hazel Bever as musician. The following officers were installed: Royal matron, Mrs. Lena Cornwell, Croydon, royal patron, Mrs. Katherine Vornhold, Hulmeville; associate matron, Mrs. Elsie Dettmer, Cornwells Heights; associate patron, Mrs. Josephine Donohue, Andalusia; secretary, Mrs. Ethel O'Dea, Edgely; conductress, Mrs. Gertrude Warner, Bristol; associate conductress, Mrs. Alice Allison, Andalusia; standard bearer, Mrs. Lena Broadbridge, Jr., P.R.M.; truth, Mrs. Ethel Keyser; Faith, Mrs. Salina Van Artsdalen; Wisdom, Mrs. Lillian Kuhn; charity, Mrs. Dorothy North; historian, Mrs. Mabel Dettmer; trustee, Mrs. Gladys Richardson, P.R.M.; warder, Mrs. Sally Caldwell; sentinel, Mrs. Julia Hanson.

At the conclusion of installation, the coronation of the new royal matron was performed. Those taking part: Coronating matron, Mrs. Mary Waterman, P.G.R.M.; coronating marshal, Mrs. Charlotte Gibbs, P.R.M.; standard bearer, Mrs. Lena Broadbridge, Jr., P.R.M.; crown bearer, Mrs. Gladys Richardson; flag bearer, Mrs. Geraldine Drawbaugh, D.G.R.M.; sword bearer, Mrs. Katharine Vornhold, R. P.; captain of the guards, Mrs. Mary Schmidt, P. R. P.; flower girls, Mrs. Florence Schmidt and Mrs. Ethel Keyser. The court of honor for the newly installed royal matron was formed of the newly installed officers, also forming an avenue at the foot of the throne, an arch was formed of extended swords the flower guard directly behind those forming the arch of swords.

The royal matron was escorted to her position to receive her crown, through the guard of swords and flowers, carrying a bouquet of red roses, while Mrs. Ida Johnson sang, "In the Heart of a Rose". The crown was placed on the head of the Royal Matron by Mrs. Mary Waterman, and she was presented with the symbol of the order, the sword. Her royal robe entrain, was of white crepe satin trimmed with white sequins; as the two flower girls preceded the royal matron each carrying a bouquet of red roses, Mrs. Charlotte Gibbs escorted the new royal matron Mrs. Cornwell, carrying a white Bible with a shower bouquet of red rose buds and white ribbon, to the throne where she was extended honors by the court and received from her flower guards gladioli and the roses.

Royal Patron, Mrs. Vornhold was presented a bouquet of salmon gladioli.

Retiring R. M., Mrs. Broadbridge, was invited to the throne where as royal patron with her during the past year, presented to her, her jewels of office. The court gave Mrs. Slater a bouquet of salmon gladioli. Mrs. Maude Carter P.R.M., invited the Jr. P.R.M. to take a walk with her, Mrs. Slater was escorted to the West where a ceremony was performed, receiving the two retiring officers into the circle of past officers.

The retiring officers received many beautiful gifts from the court and its members.

Mrs. Mary Waterman, Mrs. Geraldine Drawbaugh and Mrs. Charlotte Gibbs, the installing officers extended congratulations to the retiring royal matron and royal patron on the success of their term of office and extended to the new officers wishes for continued success.

There followed a social hour and tempting refreshments. The hostesses of the evening were members of the entertainment committee, with Mrs. Elizabeth Slater, chairman.

Today's Quiet Moment

By The Rev. Andrew G. Solla
Pastor
Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour

O God, our Father, we acknowledge that we have sinned against Thee and that there is no goodness in us. Then, gracious Father, in the name of the one Father, in the name of the one Jesus, forgive us, and give us grace that we may do those things that please Thee. Teach us to put all our trust in Christ, and grant that in His Cross, we may find the sure shelter for our sin-tossed souls. In His name, Amen.

Falls Alumni and the Profy team will fight for undisputed possession of first place in the Bristol Basketball League tonight in the initial game scheduled for the high school floor. In the nightcap of the double-header, Rohm & Haas meets Morrisville in the battle for fifth place. Opening tip-off takes place at 7:30 o'clock.

"Bill" Leigh's Fallsington lads and the radiomen are deadlocked for first place with four wins and two losses. St. Ann's held the lead until it dropped two games last week and are now tied with the Hibs for third place.

Tonight's fracas will decide which team will finish on top at the end of the first round. Each team plays seven games per round. However, as the season is not divided into halves, tonight's standing will have little effect on the outcome of the final race.

Falls Alumni will have Frank Thropp, Ken Parr, "Bill" Anderson, and the Lynch twins, Roy and Gene, in its starting lineup. Manager Leigh has signed "Jim" Horne, former Morrisville High star, to replace the injured "Al" Monti.

Profy's will be hampered by the absence of "Johnny" Slaven and "Johnny" Messenger, both of whom will be directing the Bensalem team against Morrisville. However, Manager "Jim" Rue intends to start "Easy" Mama, "Johnny" Pindar, Dave Morrell, Ted Sak and Tom Profy.

Rohm & Haas will be seeking its fourth straight triumph. The club has elevated itself from the cellar until it is now in a tie with the Hoopers for fifth position.

Manager Stein's starting array will be composed of Bob Anderson, "Chuck" Klein, Stan Lelinski, and the Carnvale brothers, Pat and Wally. Morrisville will have in its lineup: Aiello, DeFronze, Stradling, Ketts, and Wilnot.

Sunday afternoon the teams will play on the Rohm & Haas court with Morrisville meeting Falls Alumni and St. Ann's clashing with Rohm & Haas.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELDERSON

New officers... Howard Bintliff, long active in the affairs of the Edgely Rod & Gun Club, was elected president of that group for 1949 when the annual meeting was held Tuesday evening in the Headley Manor Fire Station. He succeeds Joseph King, Sr., who so successfully guided the Club as president during the last four years.

LeRoy Stackhouse was named vice-president, while William Quinn and Samuel Hellings were re-elected to the posts of secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Winners of the Club's 1948 Fishing Contest were announced. They included: Bass—Ernest Traber, Newportville, 4 lbs., 2 ozs.; Catfish—Norman Morris, Fleetwing Estates, 2 lbs., 4 ozs.; Carp—Donald Green, Bristol, 6 lbs., 4 ozs.

Four dozen rabbits which were ordered by the Club some time ago are expected to arrive on February 22nd. They will be stocked on open hunting territory in the Edgely section.

Contest winner... Sunzio Rubino, Bristol, has won a prize in the nation-wide "You Judge The Dogs" contest, a national stock food company, contest sponsors, announced recently. Rubino will receive a subscription to a sports magazine for his prize-winning entry.

The contest consisted of selecting the top-ranking dogs shown in a special Purina Chow "You Judge The Dogs" folder. The folder contained actual photographs of four dogs representing each of the popular sporting-breeds—pointers, setters, beagles, foxhounds, labradors and springer spaniels. Contestants made their selections on the basis of their knowledge of dogs and their good judgment.

Bristol notes... a membership drive (with a goal of 1000 members in 1949) is now underway by the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association. Annual dues are a buck, and every sportsman in the Bristol area should belong. Jim Chichester, R. D. 1, Bristol, is the secretary. Sid Popkin, Mill and Pond streets, is the president.

The Bristol Club will hold an open 16-yard bluecock shoot this Sunday, beginning at 1 p. m., over the club traps, located west of Bath Road at Silver Lake. All shooters welcome.

Members of the Pistol & Rifle section of the club who journeyed to Burlington Wednesday for indoor shooting at the Burlington Army had some good scores for the evening.

George Walker and James Eagan were tied for first place in the small bore rifle shooting in the group of 24 men who participated. Each had a 94 out of a possible 100. A. Liszewski was in second spot with a 92, while S. W. Popkin scored an 89. E. D. Stackhouse and Richard Miller each had an 87. Other scores included: Robert Robinson, 86; Charles LaPolla, 86; John C. Johnson, 85; C. E. Lent, 85.

In the 22 calibre pistol event high score went to Jack Laidacker who had an 88. Other scores were: S. W. Popkin, 87; E. D. Stackhouse, 81; and Ralph Ratcliffe, 78.

J. S. Fine, Jack Laidacker, Edward Burton, C. E. Lent, George Neill, Robert Robinson, Victor Rockhill, A. Liszewski, Guy Gernet, Sam Laidacker, J. Elmhurst, Leon Flavin and James Higbee.

All members who plan to attend next Wednesday's practice session are asked to meet at 7 p. m. in front of Penn Auto & Sport Store, Mill street.

YOCUM NAMED TO REPRESENT CLASS ON SQUASH TEAM

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 28—

Cadet Charles W. Yocum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Yocum of 1527 Wilson Avenue, Bristol, Pa., recently was selected to represent his class on the freshman squash team.

They have been practicing in order to be ready for their first meet with the Williams College Freshmen on February 19th.

The extensive intramural program, a part of the physical education course at West Point is designed so that each cadet will be well grounded in athletics and at the same time will develop a healthy body. In addition, the intramural program gives a cadet like Yocum, an opportunity to become acquainted with the men whom he will be serving in the Regular Army after graduation. Already Yocum's outstanding ability with the squash team has won for him the esteem of his classmates.

Cadet Yocum was graduated from Morrisville High School, in Morrisville, Pa., in 1943 and later served twenty-one months as an aviation cadet in the Air Force. Yocum also spent one year preparing for entrance to the Academy at the Martin College in Philadelphia by taking the industrial engineering course. He was appointed to the Academy by Congressman Franklin H. Lichtenwalter of the Eighth Congressional District and entered West Point on July 1, 1948.

OWLS WILL TRY FOR 4TH STRAIGHT VICTORY TONIGHT

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Jan. 28—

The Bensalem Owls will try for their fourth straight win tonight as they meet the Morrisville Bulldogs on the Bensalem floor in a Lower Bucks County League game. The junior varsity teams of the schools will play in the preliminary game, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The tilt will have an important bearing on the standing of the Lower Bucks circuit. Bristol is leading the pack with four wins and no defeats. Morrisville has won two and lost one. Bensalem has lost two games and won one. Pennsylvania is winless. Should the Owls beat the Morrisville team, Bristol will be assured of at least a tie for first place.

Coach "Johnny" Slaven's starting lineup will be composed of the King boys, Fred and Bob, as forwards; Harry Kisters, center; "Ed" Oliver and "Reggie" Samero, guards.

Morrisville has been having a ragged season but managed to win its last two games, beating Pennsylvania and Southampton.
